

HEALING WITH GOLD

Gold's long history of use by mankind has given rise to a great number of healing myths. No doubt, its monetary value, which wells from a human lust for gold that is almost archetypal, has amplified the powers that healers attribute to the metal. That New Age healers call gold, "the Master Healer" is of little surprise considering how the desire that gold inspires approaches worship of the metal.

Physical Healing

Gold's lack of toxicity and its scientific properties of incredible malleability and ability to conduct energy, while remaining resistant to wear and corrosion, make it highly useful for Medical Science. Medical uses based on science have included the treatment of Arthritis, dental fixtures, and more.

Healing uses for Gold based on the beliefs of the New Age include the treatment of blood, skin, neurological and heart disorders. They believe Gold to be an energy generator and remover of blockages with the power to strengthen, amplify and conduct energy in the body for the treatment of autism, dyslexia, epilepsy and scoliosis.

Mental Healing

To those who use minerals, metals and crystals for healing Gold symbolizes the purity of spirit and they attribute the power of cell regeneration, energy conductivity, communication transmission and energy purification to the metal. According to their belief system, Gold spurs the regeneration of neurotransmitters in both lobes of the brain and creates a balance of brain function between creative and logical thought. It also benefits the nerves with its ability to improve the flow of information through the body. In the world of spiritual healing, Gold has the emotional power to ease tension, feelings of inferiority, an anger as well as encouraging the realization of one's potential and bringing comfort.

GOLD'S SPIRITUALITY

For those who follow the Wicca, New Age or believe in the Spirit World, Crystals, Minerals, Rocks, Semi-Precious Stones and metals can have powers for Astral Travel, Aura Cleansing, Channeling, Cosmic Awareness, Crystal Healing, ESP, Meditation, Psychic Communication, Psychic Energy and Transcendental Meditation. They also believe a crystal can have crystal magic that gives it the ability to connect to spirits, spirit guides, spiritual energy and help with channeling spirits and increase cosmic awareness.

The Spiritual characteristics that New Agers apply to Gold's center around its ability to amplify energy. In their system, Gold is a masculine stone ruled by the Sun expressing its projective qualities on other minerals and crystals, such as Topaz, rubies, orange zircon and Peridots, all of whose power increases when set in Gold. They believe that Topaz in a Gold setting disperses enchantments and Rubies in Gold can refresh the body by absorbing energy from the Sun. They also say that Gold can prevent spiritual corrosion, that Gold adds to the realm of complete understanding and that it can clear away negativity. It can transform energy and negativity. On the negative, they believe Gold can bring Greed into the soul. Pink Gold can represent spirituality and White can combine the sun and moon's energies. In some Asian cultures, adding gold to statues was part of rituals meant to bring the statue to life. It is associated with the Fire Elemental and the number 2 vibration.
